GOLDEN RAMS, BLUE DEVILS LAUNCH PRACTICE

Hard At It First Week

The gridiron gambols of the traditional rivals, the Belle Glade Rams and the Paohokee Blue Devils began this week as Coaches Calvin Peacock and Wally Pelt started football practice.

Pelt, whose 1953 Blue Devil team faltered at the start and then roared through the season to wind up near the top in the State, has been doing well. The Rams, has been putting his boys through their drills at City Park each night.

Twenty-one boys have turned out for practice at Paohokee, including Tom Elliott, Buddy Parker, Jerry Roberts, Earl Mardif, Alfred Kahn, Ronnie Goodman, Don McClellan, Ronnie Elliott, Harry Elarbee, Jim Pope, Donald Waddell, Jack Beverly, Ron Bell, Homer Johnson, Joe Parker, Bobby Bush, Albert Gamot, and Ronnie Hitchcock.

Others expected to check in when uniforms are issued next week and practice at Lair Field begin are ex-propelled Hal Robinson, Pat Turbeville, Jimmy Lee Hall, George Mills, and Philip Dulany.

Rams Report

In Belle Glade, in a first week of late afternoon practice, ten candidates for the team, including Harry McDonald, Glenn Carraway, Leo James, Don Tanner, Paul Miller, John Townsend, Jimmy Dooley, Walter Mosley, Billie Jackson, Leon Burkitt, Wayne Bair, Ronnie Marlowe, Marvin Bergman and Jim Cowan.

Peacock, who hopes to have at least two dozen squadsmen, is anticipating the check-in of J. C. Vomack, Jim Bradley, Jim Gandy, Ed Robison, Kenneth Norris, Franklin Kahn, Spencer Scarborough, and Robbie Joe Thomas.

Neither coach has much to say in the way of pre-season predictions, but both are pinching in pushing first-week practice to strenuous lengths, getting their boys in shape.

The Belle Glade football schedule was announced as follows by Coach Peacock:

Sept. 16	Miami Tech	Here
Sept. 24	FI. Myers	There
Oct. 1	Clewiston	There
Oct. 8	Vero Beach	There
Oct. 15	Stuart	There
Oct. 22	Lake Worth	There
Oct. 29	Seacrest	There
Nov. 5	Pompano	There
Nov. 12	FI. Pierce	There
Nov. 19	OPEN	There
Nov. 24	Paohokee	There

PLEA TO MEET POLIO DEFICIT

With polio cases in Palm Beach County double the number at this time last year, and a deficit of some $17,000 to be met, Glades communities were asked this week to join in an emergency polio contribution to help the campaign against the disease.

Mayor Lewis Friend, Belle Glade; Harold Rubin, Belle Glade, and S. J. Fisher, South Bay, were asked to proclaim the emergency "dollar day," by County Chairman Kenneth Foster.

The high incidence of polio this year, affecting several Glades families among the 48 Palm Beach County victims, has deeply deplored the county funds of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

All contributions may be made to the Glades mayors or direct to Foster, and are badly needed.

NOTE: During the congressional recess, I expect to publish my newsletter bimonthly.

WASHINGTON — As this is written, one of the busiest of all peacetime sessions of the Congress is nearing the end of its legislative work.

Work piled up so much in the closing days of session that we started into vacation planning and I have the promise of days instead of weeks, to get re-acquainted with my family and to enjoy an outing with the boys before school days begin again, and the Senate is summoned back to handle the unfinished jobs.

But as we toward recess, there are bright moments in the legislative days:

I had to pass in the Senate the other day a bill which, when I was in charge on the Democratic side, a bill which it is hoped will end the "shrimp boat wars" off Florida's west coast in the Gulf. This measure, already passed by the House, is designed to seize American ships in the case of seizure of American vessels in foreign waters, outside the 3-mile limit.

Senator Holland and I supported the administration farm bill, in which we were able to retain undisturbed two sections which will be most helpful to our farmers and their families. More important however was the embracing of a new farm price support policy, calling for an end of an emergency policy which artificially created high prices and encouraged waste. The swap was "rigid" for "flexible" price supports benefiting producers and farmers.

President Eisenhower has signed into law the new tax bill, which gives us an entirely revised United States Tax Code. As a member of the Finance Committee, I helped draft this new code and while it does not contain all which I would have liked to it, there is much to recommend it to the taxpayer.

Somany people have written me to inquire of its provisions which affect older citizens—those living on limited incomes in retirement—that I had prepared a special study of the new code as it affects them.

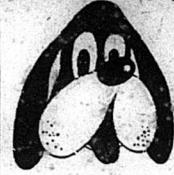

No new tax rate cut has resulted from the re-codification, but there are reductions in the tax bill for many people. For example, there are more liberal medical expense allowances, a more favorable formula for farmers' expense charge-offs, a better dependency deduction, a larger deduction for dependents, mothers, and a firm advantage for older citizens in making returns on retirement income.

Aid to tourist: Step by step, we are moving toward repeal of the discriminatory tax upon travel to Mexico, Central America, and the West Indies. I have been working for sometime to eliminate this tax, which is not chargeable for travel to South America, or foreign countries outside the Caribbean. It appears now the President supports my bill.

Favorable reports on this proposed legislation now have been received from the State and Commerce Committees. On this proposal, Commerce Secretary Weeks says: "(This section of the code) was adopted as a wartime measure to discourage travel. Not only has this necessity . . . but President Eisenhower . . . is going out the importance of an increasing role of the United States in the national economy and international trade." And the State Department says: "Because of the discriminatory nature of this royalty in town: The king and queen were here this week. Miss Dean O'Sullivan, 16, of Hollywood, Jimmie Pyle, 18, of Daytona Beach, the winners of the Daytona Beach Youth Council king and queen contest spent two full days here. "Full Days" included a TV appearance to the television gallery, a meeting with Senator Holland and Congressman Syd Herlong, a tour of the House floor where they were shown the bullet holes in the seats and the wall where they sat for a moment in silence, a dinner at an evening at "South Pacific," and a dinner in their honor given by the Florida State Society.

To The Editor

Fort Myers, Fla.

Editor,
Glades Observer,

Dear Sirs:

Just saw the cut in today's Tampa Tribune about the paper and from the looks of the owners, it ought to prosper. Wonder if I am eligible for a sample copy.

The Glades are a lot different these days from what they were when I first drove an old-time high-wheeled car around the lake. Back in those days when you hit something, you had to get out and walk before you could see if you had hit a hog or just bumped a mosquito. They were about the same size.

I once heard that up about Lakeport the mosquitoes ate supper off the same old Crackers every night until there was scarcely a cracker left. One day he screened his house and that evening the skeeters were so mad that they caught a lot of sand flies and poked them through the holes in the screen.

Maybe I might stray a little from the truth but I always heard that it's the truth that hurts anyway. So did the skeeters. You might ask about the old settlers about the summer of '98 when the skeeters and chinookwings killed some cows and 11 hogs around Hooker's Point and Bare Beach. That was the good old days when the skeeters were big enough to connect with ones and you always knew when he had connected with you. They had the quickest acting prospecting pup ever seen in Florida.

Once I heard a man digging the hole for the culvert at Bean City, the skeeters and bugs were so thick that we had to shut off our lights and build a large fire on the other side of the hole so that the drag line operator, Lem Howard, could see the bucket.

One night when we had the drag line on a barge while working at Bare Beach, Lem rocked the barge so that he turned our coffee over. We tried again for a pot of coffee, put in the last cup of coffee and the coffee just as it began to boil. We got a punkin bug in it at that time.

The other fellows were sleep that night but I was wide awake long before daylight. We were trying to get the coffee dam about the time the skeeters got me overboard. Lem hit the deck yelling to me but I didn't care. Not for awhile anyway.

When I did hear, I answered from out in the lake. I had went under the barge just in time to escape being crushed between it and the wall of the coffee dam.

The Glades are altogether different from what they were 30 years ago. If you have been south there, you have been eaten alive by the skeeters except for one thing, I never heard of mosquitos eating Peaches.

Yours,
Frog Smith,

ROBSERVATIONS

By BENJAMIN S. ROBERTS

India wants no European territories adjacent to it. Nehru has indicated that peaceful means will be used, but means nonetheless, to force Portugal and France to give up their territories, small though they are, appended to India.

Of the Portuguese colonies none is more steeped in historical association than Goa. The Metropolitan Province of Goa is governed from the capital New Goa by a Governor General. Since the XVIIth and early XVIIIth centuries when it was in Lisbon, it has been a colonial possession of Portugal's eastern possessions. The territory has enjoyed a privileged status in colonial affairs. That is, the same rights and privileges as pertain to Portuguese citizens in Lisbon also pertain to the populace of Goa.

Because of these rights and privileges, Goans are not anxious to be absorbed by a people who are in some ways alien in religion and in habits and in other ways foreign in custom and tradition. This is no oppressed people being released from the bonds of their oppressor but rather a people who believes it is going to get a far worse system than it may be.

All has not been sweetness and light in Goan government affairs, yet the malcontents have been few and pressure to throw off the European identity practical.

With the world in a ferment because of territorial aims of nations deprived of territories in the past, it is a most interesting spectacle to watch one territorial "possession" fight off so-called "liberation" from a self-declared neutral, non-imperialistic state.

OES WORTHY GRAND
MATRON INTERVIEWED

Mrs. Mary Wall, treasurer of Belle Glade Chapter 197 Order of the Eastern Star, interviewed Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Esther Bush of St. Petersburg, Fla., Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Bush was working on the Eastern Star in this state and Mrs. Bush's work as worthy matron. She stated that she had made an official visit to 110 chapters and still had 110 visits to make.

PAHOKEE OES
ENTERTAINS

Several members of Bell Glade attended a covered dish luncheon at the Community Hall in Canal Point Saturday honoring Worthy Matron Mrs. Esther Bush, who was the president of the Palmetto Order of Eastern Star. Those attending were Mrs. and Mr. William Wilson, Mrs. and Mr. James A. Ball, Mrs. and Mr. John J. Clegg, and Worthy Matron Aleese Cherry.

Judy Ann Duncan (Mr. and Mrs. Otto Duncan, Palmetto, 8-13); Sharon Denice Pardon (Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pardon, 8-14); Wanda Gail Dean (Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dean, 8-18).

Claudia Phelan. They were introduced to James A. Ball Jr.

They gathered there as a representative of the FHA and discussed their plans for teaching girls to be better homemakers and mothers for the future. Miss Friedheim is state parliamentarian of the Florida club's financial report for the year ending June 30, 1954 was also given.

BG, Pahokee BPW
Have Joint Meeting

The Pahokee Business & Professional Women's Club were guests of the Belle Glade BPW at a joint meeting at Red Smoke House in South Bay Tuesday evening, and held a joint meeting afterwards at Belle Glade City Park shelter house.

Mrs. Ann Quinn and Mrs. Aneita Wells were in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Mrs. Ursula Garthurs was in charge of the Belle Glade club at the joint meeting and Mrs. Alma W. Farrow, vice president of the Pahokee club, presided.

Programs for the BPW meeting in November in the Glades were made.

The joint meeting voted that the dinner will be in charge of the Belle Glade club there, with the Pahokee club in charge of programs.

Mrs. Mary Fay of the Belle Glade club introduced Miss Elizabeth Sutton, newly-arrived supervisor of the Migrant Research Project Board's pilot project in Palm Beach County. Miss Sutton was a dinner and meeting guest.

Club members were told that Miss Sarah Lee Creech, Belle Glade, came to the national BPW convention, who is presently confined to her home because of illness, had used the expense money of $50 authorized for her convention trip as part of the Florida Federation of BPW's first contribution to the proposed new national BPW headquarters in the Glades. Belle Glade clubs were urged, in a message from Miss Creech, to contribute "a dollar a brick per member" toward the proposed new building, and to take action in the near future.

Pahokee Baptists To Honor Hunter

A basket supper honoring Rev. and Mrs. W. Hal Hunter and children, Elaine and Hal, Jr., will be held at Pahokee City Park, Aug. 27 at 6 p.m. as a farewell expression of regard and best wishes to the pastor and family who have served First Baptist Church for almost three years.

The Hunters are leaving Aug. 31 for Crestview where Rev. Mr. Hunter will serve First Baptist Church there.

Members of the church and friends are invited to attend and bring their basket supper. The church will furnish the drinks.

BELLE GLADE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH BIBLE SCHOOL

Commencement exercises were held Saturday night and brought to a close the most successful Vacation Bible School ever held in the church. There was a total of 242 pupils and workers in the eight day school, with a daily attendance average of 190. Both of these figures are record破了. Each of the five departments has shown that good leadership, hard work and excellent instruction can yield stronger Christian character in boys and girls.

FOLLOWSHIP

Last Sunday night some 65 young people enjoyed a "stunt night" in the fellowship period after church. The various unions of the B.A.M.U. and the M.Y.F. from Central, West Palm Beach, and sponsored skits. The judges were J. W. Mooley, Jack Little and Nelson Nelms. A prize was presented to the M.Y.F. for having the most unique skit.

Everyone in the church and community was invited to witness a religious film at 9:15 this Sunday night.

SONG SERMON

Something new and different will occur Sunday night, Aug. 29, in the fellowship period of the church. The church music department is presenting the four choirs, solo, duets and quartets in a concert of sacred music.

The program will be centered around the theme "The Glorious Christ."

VACATIONING

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are taking a week of their vacation beginning today. Lamar Willis, the minister of music and education will be in the church office each day, and will know where to reach the pastor during the absence. J. L. Merrill, Christian layman from Pahokee, will fill the pulpit Sunday.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, BELLE GLADE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, CANAL POINT

The importance of relying wholeheartedly on God, divine Mind, for guidance will be stressed Sunday at the Christian Science service.

The Lesson Sermon entitled "Mind" will include the following passage from the King James Version of the Bible (Proverbs 3: 5, 6): "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; lean not unto thine own understanding."

The practical availability of God's guidance will also be stressed in the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (234: 10-12): "When we wait patiently on God and obey his commandments, he directs our path in righteousness."

The Golden Text is from Daniel (2:20, 21): "Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: . . . he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge unto them that know understanding."

Miss Hull, Mr. Nason Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gull Hull, 224 Anna Ave., Pa-hokee, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Walter Nelle Hull, to Richard Henry Nason, son of Mrs. Frank Powell, 76 Bacon Point Rd.

Miss Hull was graduated from Pa-hokee high school, and from Florida Southern College, Lakeland, with the class of 1952.

She was president of the Delta Zeta sorority, Delta Kappa Alpha fraternity, president of the Panhellenic Council and member of the Student Council. She is presently employed as secretary for the Hull Packing Company.

Mr. Nason, son of the late Richard Henry Nason, sr., of Belzoni, Miss., was graduated from Belzoni high school and attended Moorehead Junior College, Moorehead, Miss., and Mississippi State College, Starkville, Miss. He is now engaged in farming in the Glades.

Announcement of the engagement was made at a buffet dinner Tuesday night at which Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Robins, brother-in-law and sister of the bride-elect, were hosts at their home on Bacon Point Rd.

The table, covered with a lace cloth, was attractive with red roses in a half moon arrangement, centered with a miniature bride and groom, a bride and bridemaids and silver candleholders containing white tapers. The living room had an arrangement of red roses framing two hearts edged with white lace bearing the names of the honorees, "Tinky" and "Richard."

A fall wedding is being planned.

Mrs. W. Roselle Wilson entertained on Friday afternoon with a Coke party in honor of her sister, Miss Hull, with 10 of the honoree's closest friends and relatives in attendance.

Mrs. William Cochrane, of Dade City, gave a dinner party for Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Robins, brother-in-law and sister of the bride-elect, were hosts at their home on Bacon Point Rd.

Grand Finale Of Summer Talent Show

PAHOKEE — Anyone who was at the Prince Theatre Tuesday night should have seen, according to Malcolm Millar, there was an assortment of real talent playing to "Standing room only." He said which included Fern Kennedy, local amateur, who was first place winner of $60 dollars cash, a loving cup from Dick Parrish's jewelry store and a three months pass to the Gold-Dobrow Food Center, plus a $5 dollar accompanist at the piano.

In this grand finale to Millar's annual summer talent show The Five Five, Roberta Hatton, concert; Judy Starling, saxophone; Charles McCurdy, clarinet; Neely Johnson, trumpet, and Charles Williams, drums, all received and placed with a $45 dollar cash award and a two months' pass to the theatre.

Winners in third place were the Jones Sisters, who performed on piano, violin and other group meetings, with their tap and song numbers. They received $30 dollars in cash and a one month pass.

Others on the bill were Smiley Williamson and his guitar-harmonica combination; Alice Ann Ross, expert twirler; Velma Williams, songstress and acrobat; Jim Lamb, yodeler; Val Gallo, violin, singer; the Hayes brothers, fiddler and guitar combination; and Linda Hand and Tina Handley, expert tap dancers.

Everyone said these young people were really mighty teriffic. Next week, the winners from the Belle Glade program will appear at the Prince.

PAHOKEE PTA STRIVING TO MAKE BLUE RIBBON

PAHOKEE — In effort to make the Blue Ribbon Standard, the Pa-hokee PTA had five representatives at the Palm Beach County PTA annual study tour on Saturday. The tour took them to West Palm Beach high school in West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Walter H. Beckman, past state PTA president, were speakers.

Attending were Mrs. C. P. Smith, state general chairman; Mrs. Clark Blakey, Mrs. Lester Hand, Mrs. Curtis Chase and Mrs. John A. Dulany.

FESSENDEN - POOLE

The Chosen Baptist Church was the scene Friday night at the home of Mary Fessenden and Travis S. Poole, Rev. Buford Shilcock, pastor of the Chosen Baptist Church, officiated at the ceremony. Miss Fessenden is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fessenden, 1001 Park, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Poole, both Belle Glade families.

Mrs. Julian Griggs, pianist, played and Jack Hemphill sang "O Promise Me."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a batwing-leafed gown of white nylon with a ruffled taffeta, fashioned with a tight bodice, three-quarter length sleeves and a Peter Pan collar. Her finger tip veil of illusion extended from the waist and seed pearls sequined and she carried an arbor bouquet of white carnations with streamers.

The bridesmaid was Miss Arlene Robbins. She was dressed in a yellow nylon gown, fashioned like the bride's, with a corsage of blue carnations. Shelton Poole, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Jackie Poole, cousin of the groom, and Lester McMillan.

The bride's mother wore a pink lace street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's brother was gowned in a blue and white street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held on the church grounds. Mrs. John Fessenden, sister-in-law of the bride, cut the cake and Mrs. Floyd Fessenden, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Frances McLeod presided at the punch bowl. Miss Ruth Ann Chancy had charge of the bride's book.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Poole attended public schools in Belle Glade. Mr. Poole spent two years in the Air Force and is at present a patrolman on the Belle Glade Police Force.
